Expected Output

The output of the project is a fully functional personal portfolio website. It consists of:

- A header with navigation menu.
- An About section with bio.
- A form-based Projects section where users can enter project details.
- A form-based Achievements section where users can input their achievements.
- A contact form that collects name, email, and message from visitors.

Each section is styled with CSS for a clean, modern look.

To view the output:

1. Save the above HTML code in a file named `index.html`.
2. Open it in any modern web browser.
3. Interact with forms and view layout.
